SOLUTION OF MEXICAN TROUBLES

Will Be Found In the Complete Capitulation Of Huerta

BLOODSHED WOULD END

Is Belief of Number in Attendance at the Mediation Conference at Niagara Falls—Will the Dictator Retire?

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Niagara Falls, Ont., May 21.—The three South American mediators in an informal conference today with the representatives of General Huerta sought to learn in a general way the viewpoint of the Mexican representatives on various tentative plans for a solution of the Mexican problem.

The mediators pursued the same course with the Mexican delegates today as they did with the American peace commissioners last night. No formal expression of views was required, but the mediators suggested hypothetical steps looking to a settlement of the Mexican imbroglio and learned the trend of thought of the delegates. No proposals of a definite character had been made to the Americans and it was understood that none was contemplated today with the Mexicans. In fact one of the principals to the conference expressed the opinion that it might be several days before a definite and comprehensive plan would be submitted for formal consideration to either side.

Minister Naon of Argentina described the informal session with each side as "talks" or "conversations," indicating that what was being done was chiefly for the guidance of all parties in shaping the course of the mediation. In the talk of the mediators with the American delegates no points were broached as having been authorized by the Mexican delegates but the substance of the talk was nevertheless communicated today by the American delegates to Washington in line with the policy they have adopted of keeping President Wilson and Secretary Bryan closely advised of developments here.

Today's conference between the South American mediators and the Mexican delegates marked the conclusion of the first step in the attempt being made to compose differences between the United States and Mexico.

It completed the first round in their effort to find some middle ground on which both sides to the controversy might be willing to rest their grievances.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Niagara Falls, Ont., May 21.—There is a feeling on the part of the principals to the mediation conference here that the savage advance of the constitutionalist army under General Villa inevitably must have a bearing upon the settlement of the difficulties between the United States and Huerta's party. Official reports coming yesterday from constitutionalist sources reciting the victories of Villa and his army in the Saltillo campaign have convinced the Mexican representatives here that Huerta's foes cannot be stopped. Moreover, the executive staff of the federal government, and the fact that leaders of the federal army cannot hope for mercy if they fall into the hands of the constitutionalists.

If Villa and his forces are kept out of Mexico City according to belief here, it will not be because Huerta is strong enough to deny entrance to his enemies. Such an advent can be avoided, it is said, by speedy solution of the problem confronting the A. B. C. mediators and few believe this to be possible except through the prompt and complete capitulation of Huerta to all of the demands of the Washington government.

With a solution of this problem and the republics of Central and South America in accord concerning the future policy of Mexico the mediators believe that Carranza, Villa and their associates would subscribe to their findings and bloodshed would end.

Much interest is displayed here in an explanation circulated today respecting the erroneous dispatch of yesterday saying Huerta would retire, as received the dispatch read: "Huerta gave out statements saying he authorized peace delegates to offer resignation if necessary to arrange peace."

Correspondents of the Associated Press in Mexico were immediately cabled to send Huerta's verbatim statement which order disclosed after several hours that the word "deposing" had been received "saying" and that the sense of the dispatch had been reversed by this error. As filed the dispatch was a denial by Huerta that he had authorized his

Rear Admiral Boush, A Division Commander of the Atlantic Fleet Off Mexico

A modest sailorman but an officer rich in experience is Rear Admiral Clifford Joseph Boush, who commands one of the divisions of the Atlantic Fleet now off the Coast of Mexico. Boush is a Virginian and has all the pleasing personality and Chesterfieldian manners of the true son of the Old Dominion. He is sixty years old now. His most recent experience as an officer of the line in the arm of service that first went to back up the administration's policy toward Huerta was, while captain, as a member of the naval examining and retiring board. Incidentally, he's proud of the fact that he himself has not yet been plucked for retirement. Boush has never played in the limelight, nor looped the loop at Santiago or enrolled himself in the galaxy of famous achievers, but he has rolled up a solid reputation as a grim old warrior in command aboard ship with a record of 21 years sea service.

"Seventeen Year Locusts" Will Pay Licking County A Visit In Month of June

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Columbus, May 21.—Swarms of "seventeen year locusts" are expected to infest the eastern half of Ohio during June this year, the first time since 1897.

All during next month they may be counted on trees, especially young fruit stock, by the thousands and the air will be filled with their humming, according to experts.

The state agricultural commission started today its active campaign to fight them. Scores of pamphlets were sent out to farmers throughout eastern Ohio, giving directions of how to protect fruit trees from invasions of the female insects. These cut deep into the stems and bark of trees and lay their eggs in pockets there. Young twigs will be weakened and under the strain of heavy fruit or wind, they may break almost entirely through. The seventeen year locusts look much like ordinary summer locusts, but are smaller. They are sometimes called "Pharaohs" because it is supposed a swarm of these insects descended upon the Egyptian king in response to the prayers of Moses.

For seventeen years the Larvae and Pupae of the locusts have been growing in the earth, fastened to rootlets and drawing sustenance from them. During the last month they have been burrowing to the surface, being almost mature. Millions of cone-shaped mud huts, from three to three and one half inches higher, have been on the surface of the ground in rural districts and reported to the state's agriculturists. These are the houses constructed by the insects.

When conditions are propitious late in May or early June, the pupae will swarm from the ground with a rush, state agriculturists say. A bulletin issued by the Wooster experiment station says from 20,000 to 40,000 locusts ascend from beneath a single tree.

Only the male locusts sing, but the female are more dangerous because of their egg planting habits. The brood probably will last five or six weeks, and disappears suddenly in July.

The brood developed in Southern Ohio, in 1905, and the progeny of this brood will not come again until 1922. The field of the 1914 brood overlaps that of the 1905 brood, however, and probably will give the impression in southern Ohio that the locusts develop more frequently than every 17 years. In southern states, where the climate is warmer they develop faster than at 17-year periods.

This year's brood is expected to cover the following counties: Ashland, Athens, Belmont, Carroll, Columbiana, Coshocton, Crawford, Cuyahoga, Delaware, Erie, Fairfield, Geauga, Gallia, Guernsey, Harrison, Hocking, Holmes, Huron, Jackson, Jefferson, Knox, Licking, Lorain, Mahoning, Medina, Meigs, Monroe, Morgan, Muskingum, Noble, Perry, Pickaway, Pike, Portage, Richland, Ross, Sandusky, Scioto, Seneca, Stark, Summit, Tuscarawas, Vinton, Washington and Wayne.

The fight against the insects is being directed by Norman E. Shaw, chief state horticulturist, Professor Herbert Osborn, entomologist of Ohio State University and H. A. Gossard of the Wooster experiment station. Here are a few of the instructions for protection of fruit trees:

Do not prune until the locust flight is over.

Watch particularly trees or orchards near woodlands, where locusts swarm first.

Spray with Bordeaux mixture or lime sulphur wash.

Young trees should be wrapped with paper cloth and their tops covered with mosquito bar. Coverings should be on by June 20, or as soon after as possible.

Arrangements have been completed for making a careful survey of the territory covered by the locusts this year. The district of the brood naturally increases from one brooding season to another.

BOY INJURED IN FALL FROM HIS BICYCLE

Byron Williams, the eight-year-old son of Mr. R. L. Williams, the Hudson avenue druggist met with a painful accident at the Williams home in Maple avenue on Thursday morning.

He was riding his wheel along the sidewalk where a portion of the street was torn up. He struck a loose brick and was thrown from the bicycle, alighting on his face, which was seriously cut and lacerated. A physician was called and a number of stitches were necessary to close the wound.

STOCK EXCHANGE MEMBER MUST SERVE SENTENCE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Boston, May 21.—Stephen R. Dow, a member of the stock exchange must serve a prison sentence of from 8 to 12 years, the supreme court today overruling a bill of exceptions to his conviction for conversion.

The brokerage firm of Stephen R. Dow and Company, of which Dow was the head, failed in December 1912. Subsequently Dow was convicted of conversion of $240,000 from mining corporations of which he was president.

To Prevent Suffragettes From Presenting Petition to King

HAD LIVELY SKIRMISH

Outside the Park Gates of Royal Residence and Several Women Were Injured in the Melee.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
London, May 21.—St. James' park and the grounds of Buckingham Palace were crowded with police from an early hour this morning, the mobilization of 1,500 men having been ordered for the purpose of opposing the projected attempt by militant suffragettes to present a petition to King George.

Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the leader of the royal militants, had announced that she would lead a great procession to the royal residence but it was said that she probably would be arrested under the provision of the "cat and mouse act" if she put in an appearance.

The skirmish between the police and the suffragettes outside the gates of Green Park was very lively while it lasted.

Mrs. Pankhurst, surrounded by a bodyguard consisting of several hundred suffragettes, suddenly appeared from a residence, opposite the park, crossed the road to the gates and attempted to march down the drive to the palace.

Mounted police, then barred her progress. The women who were armed with sticks attempted to cut their way through the lines of the patrolmen. They fought with vigor, using their sticks with such force that the price charged.

Several women were injured in the struggle. The raiders were finally driven back but left Mrs. Pankhurst and a number of her lieutenants in the ground was a considerable collection of remnants of garments which had been torn off the women in the hand-to-hand fighting.

The police also suffered some casualties during the onslaught. King George himself was an interested spectator of the earlier movements for his protection, watching them from a window of Buckingham Palace.

The ambulance corps was kept very busy in attending to a number of injured women and removing on stretchers several who had fainted. There were over forty arrests, including Mrs. Pankhurst and her daughter, Miss Sylvia Pankhurst, who was captured near the palace.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF PRESBYTERIANS OPENS AT CHICAGO

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Chicago, May 21.—The Rev. John Timothy Stone of Chicago, moderator, opened the 16th general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States here today with a gavel made from the pulpit of George Whitefield, one of the founders of Methodism who died in Newburyport, Mass., in 1878. The gavel is small and light and its mallet shaped head is bound by gold bands. It was presented to Dr. Stone last year at Atlanta when he was elected moderator.

Election of this year's moderator was the most important business of the day.

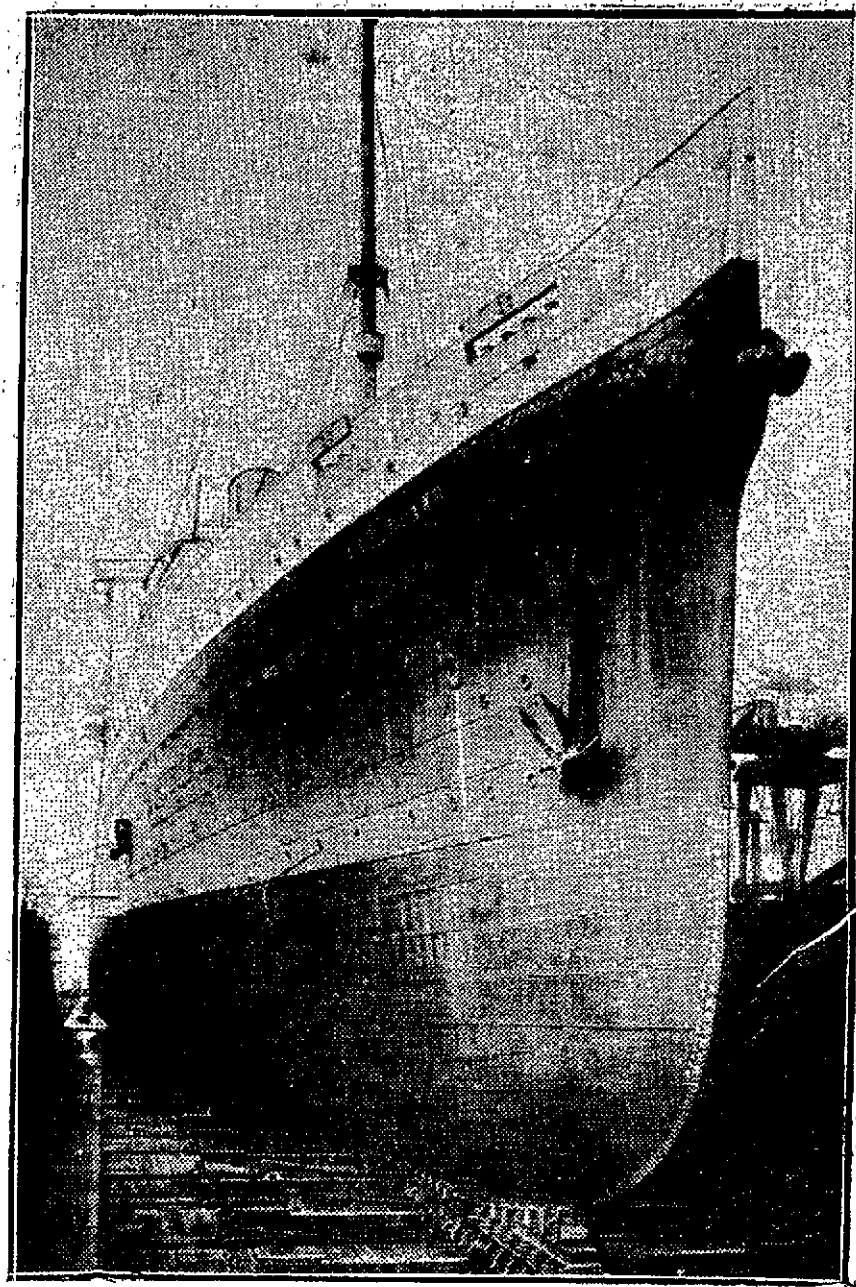

YOUNG MAN LOSES FOOT IN ACCIDENT

George Schlosser, aged 22, living with his mother, Mrs. Mary D. Schlosser, at 243 Lawrence street, was seriously injured when he fell in front of an engine early Thursday morning.

Mr. Schlosser is a fireman employed by the B. & O. railroad company and had just secured a furlough for a short time. Seeking a change of occupation for a few weeks he was on his way to the Jewett Car company to look for employment and it is supposed that he jumped on a yard engine to ride to West Newark. In the Wehrle yards, the engine was switching and Schlosser fell from a box car and was run over by a cut of cars. A call was sent for the Bazler & Bradley ambulance and he was hurried to the City Hospital, where Drs. H. J. Davis and R. G. Downs were called.

It was necessary to amputate the right foot at the ankle, and two toes were so badly mashed on the left foot that it was found necessary to amputate them.

Vaterland, Greatest Ship in the World, Arrives.

Giant Liner Vaterland Breaks Away From Tugs Convoing Her to Pier

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
New York, May 21.—Traffic in the North River between Lower New York and Hoboken stood still while the Vaterland biggest ship afloat, defied all efforts to dock her and swept broadside down the stream for more than a mile.

When the liner arrived at her pier after her maiden voyage her great length and a strong ebb tide proved too strong a combination for the fleet of little tugs that urged her toward her berth. More than three hours the tugs pulled and hauled at the gigantic liner without success. Ferry boats and small craft scurried to safety as the leviathan floated broadside down the river with 20 tugs circling frantically around.

Thousands watched the struggle from the skyscrapers facing the river. Twice the Vaterland's great draught made her scrape bottom. While the contest was in progress ferry schedules were suspended and the Atlantic liner Barbarosa was penned in her slip unable to go to sea. The Vaterland, 950 feet long, dominated the river. The fourth attempt to dock the ship proved successful.

When the Vaterland was headed in for her pier, more than twenty tugs had her in charge. As her bow neared the pier the strong ebb tide caught the big vessel at the stern and began to swing her around, heading her straight for a wooden pier nearby.

There was shouting of orders, the big whistle on the liner blew and the hawsers on the tugs were let go. The vessel began to back under her own power and was soon out in the stream again, almost directly in the path of the Lackawanna ferryboats. The tugs began to maneuver about her again but the big liner slowly drifted southward.

After the vessel had drifted more than a mile the tugs succeeded in getting her in tow again and she was headed upstream under control.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
New York, May 21.—The Vaterland of the Hamburg-American Line, the biggest steamer in service, arrived in New York harbor early today on her maiden voyage from Hamburg. Her run yesterday was 594 miles and her average speed per hour was 26.3 knots. This is a view of her bow showing a depth of more than 100 feet from her upper decks to her keel. The Vaterland is 950 feet long, 100 feet wide, and requires 43 feet of water in which to float. Her gross tonnage is 53,000, and her displacement much more. From the keel to the top of her mast is 300 feet.

Former New Haven Head Favors Railroad Monopoly Controlled By Government

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, May 21.—Charles S. Mellen, former president of the New Haven railway told the interstate commerce commission today that he favored railroad monopoly, controlled and regulated by the government and that such a monopoly would be beneficial to the public.

Further details of his remarkable story of alleged exploitation of the New Haven through stock manipulations by which the stockholders of that road are said to have lost millions of dollars, were expected to be developed at today's investigation. Just how long Mr. Mellen would continue on the stand could not be foretold early today. The prospects were, however, that he might not finish his testimony for at least two days and possibly longer.

Questioned by Mr. Folk as to his present business relations, Mr. Mellen said: "I have not a dollar's interest today in the New Haven. I disposed of all my stock. I retain a little interest yet in the Boston and Maine and in the Ontario and Western."

Perfecting of Plans For Reorganization Will Require Thirty Days

NEW OFFICERS ELECTED

Frank L. Beam of Mt. Vernon, Member of Directorate—Fourteen Plants in Ohio are Included in the Merger.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Columbus May 21.—Frank A. Davis, head of the United States Telephone company, which is to be reorganized into the Ohio State Telephone company—the Morgan interests withdrawing—with an outstanding capitalization of over $23,000,000, said today that it would be probably more than a month before the new organization is perfected. There are a number of details to be perfected as a result of the big deal; Mr. Davis explained.

In addition to the selection of Samuel C. McMeen, president of the Columbus Railway, Power and Light company, as head of the new company, Mr. Davis today announced the selection of two other officers. These are: H. B. Cary, Columbus, treasurer, and W. L. Taylor, Columbus, secretary. Mr. Davis explained, while the vice president and other officers are to be selected later by the directors. Selection of the other officers probably will not be made for several weeks, Mr. Davis intimated.

BIG DEFICIENCY CAUSED BY THE MEXICAN CRISIS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, May 21.—The "further urgent deficiency" appropriation bill, making provision for more than $6,000,000 for the present fiscal year largely on account of the Mexican crisis, was before the House today for action. An interesting statement had been prepared by the war department to show exactly the approximate amount of the deficiencies and appropriations of the quartermaster's department of the army due to the Mexican situation to June 30 next. This made a total of $4,573,136. It includes $1,100,149 for subsistence, $2,429,070 for transportation of the army, both along the border and to Mexico, and numerous other items relating to pay on account of Mexico covered in the bill, the government already is obligated for $1,625,852.

TEDDY PAYS VISIT TO THE METROPOLIS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
New York, May 21.—Col. Roosevelt arrived in town today to spend his first day in New York for seven months. There was no one with him but the chauffeur in the automobile that left Oyster Bay at 8:30. This first day in the city he decided to be alone, the Colonel said. He said that he expected to spend a great part of the day buying clothes for his son's wedding. When the task of "togging himself out" was finished, he planned to see his publishers, meet a number of progressive leaders and visit the American Museum of Natural History.

End of Graft Passing; High Grade Business Men Undertaking City Contracts

By City Chamberlain HENRY BRUERE of New York City

THERE has taken place in the last five years a remarkable transformation in the attitude of business men toward the city government. Corruption in city government in the past resulted not merely from the grafting demands of city employees and politicians, but from the WILLINGNESS, SOMETIMES EAGERNESS, OF CERTAIN BUSINESS MEN TO PAY THIS GRAFT. There no doubt is still some of this miserable business occurring, but it is gradually reduced and on the way to complete elimination.

THAT THIS IS TRUE IS SHOWN BY THE ONE HUNDRED MILLION DOLLAR CONTRACTS AWARDED BY THE CITY EACH YEAR AND THE TWENTY MILLION DOLLARS IN SUPPLIES. MORE AND MORE EACH YEAR HIGH GRADE BUSINESS MEN ARE UNDERTAKING CITY CONTRACTS. OLD BUSINESS-POLITICAL CLIQUES ARE BREAKING UP, ALTHOUGH THERE ARE SOME LEFT. THE EVILS OF THIS CHANGE IS ABUNDANT AND UNMISTAKABLE.

The present city administration has two big opportunities, and the first of these is to demonstrate that MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS CAN BE MANAGED AS EFFICIENTLY AS THE AFFAIRS OF ANY PRIVATE ENTERPRISE, while the second is to show that the most effective instrument of social welfare is a government popularly controlled and intelligently directed.

COXEY DELIVERS SPEECH FROM THE CAPITOL STEPS

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, May 21.—General Jacob E. Coxe at the head of his so-called "army of unemployed," climbed to the capitol today and delivered a prolonged speech on industrial conditions to a curious crowd of reinforcements of seven unemployed from Baltimore commanded by J. Eds. How, joined the army at the capitol.

An asthmatic bugle blast by the army trumpeter, and the rattle of the army's drum announced the approach of the army, led by General Coxe's young son. The General dismounted from his mule and pressed his way through the crowd to the capitol steps where twenty years ago he was arrested for letting his army get on the grass.

MICHIGAN FOREST FIRES.

(Associated Press Telegram) Lansing, Mich., May 21.—Conditions in the Michigan forest fire belt are somewhat improved today, according to reports received at the office of the state forestry department. Fires are still dangerous in Cheboygan, Presque Isle and Osego counties, but the situation is hopeful unless high winds should prevail.

NEWARK TEAM TO COMPETE IN STATE MEET

As a fitting conclusion to the interscholastic track meets in Newark, High School this year the track team will be taken to Columbus, Friday afternoon at 12:50 o'clock to compete in the State interscholastic High School Track Meet that is to be held at Ohio State University next Saturday afternoon. This is an annual event, and it is the first time in several years that the local high school has been represented in this tournament.

To the schools winning first, second or third places banners are presented. To the students winning first, second or third places in any event handsome medals are given. To win a place in this meet is deemed a great honor and a manifestation of athletic ability as nearly all of the best high school athletes in the state of Ohio are entered.

The local boys have won two out of the three meets that Newark has entered in this season, and from their constantly improving records they are confident of winning a share of the honor and glory and bringing back some trophies to add to the collection hanging in the halls of Newark High.

Under the supervision of the former track athlete, Coach Fred Stinson, the boys are training daily on the White Athletic field.

Following is a list of the events and the boys entered in them:

SCOTCHMEN DEFEAT THE AMERICANS ON ENGLISH GOLF LINKS

(Associated Press Telegram)
Sandwich, England, May 21.—Charles W. Evans, Jr., of Chicago, and Harold Webber, Toledo, the only American survivors in the fourth round of the British amateur golf championship, met defeat today at the hands of two Scotchmen, C. B. McFarlane and Captain Cecil K. Hutcheson.

Harold H. Hilton, the holder of the title, shared their fate, being beaten by Edward Blackwell, another Scottish player. Neither of the Americans looked like a winner at any period of today's matches. Evans made a splendid effort in the last third of his round, but he had already handicapped himself too heavily. McFarlane had virtually won at the turn where he had secured a commanding lead of five up with a wonderful card of 31 for the nine holes.

The fall of Hilton added to Edward Blackwell's reputation. They were all square at the eleventh and again at the fifteenth. Blackwell took the sixteenth and seventeenth winning the match.

Kept His Word.

An amusing tale is told in "Police Work From Within," by Hargrave L. Adam, of Charles Peace, the celebrated burglar. He once went into a chemist's shop smoking a choice cigar, which he had burgled in a recent "exploit."

"The chemist, noting the aroma of the cigar, remarked, 'That's a nice cigar you're smoking. Where did you get it?' Peace promptly replied, 'I stole it.' At this the chemist laughed and said, 'I wish you would steal some as good for me.' Again Peace promptly replied, 'I will.' Shortly after he again secured some good cigars upon the occasion of one of his nocturnal jobs, several of which he took to the chemist in question. As he handed them to him he remarked, 'There you are—I stole them for you.'

The Insulted Tiger.

In "Tigerland," C. E. Gouldsberg, its author, alludes to the belief, current among some of the natives of Bengal, that tigers resent being discussed by human beings and should one overhear a man doing so, will not rest till it has killed and eaten the offender. Therefore when a tiger is near at hand they speak of it as a "gooder" or "Bengali for jackal" and so hope to deceive it. When it was pointed out to an old native that to insult a tiger by calling it a jackal—the smallest and most insignificant beast in the forest—was scarcely the best way of propitiating it, he merely shrugged his shoulders and said, "Kya june?" (who knows?), adding by way of explanation that "such was their dusky (custom)."

Pride in Their Country.

In Germany there is a national association called the Helmschutz Bund which was formed for protecting and preserving the natural beauty of the German fatherland, together with its historic and artistic buildings, cities, monuments, etc.; also to unite the efforts being made by various local and state organizations.

That Held Him.

"Your air's getting thin, sir. Let me sell you—"

"That's all right. I put something on it every morning."

"May I ask what you put on it, sir?"

"My hat!" (operation finished in silence)—London Opinion.

Col. Roosevelt, Posed for Photographers on Deck of Steamer That Brought Him From the Tropics

Colonel Roosevelt, who has arrived home from his explorations in Brazil, weighed about sixty pounds less than he did formerly when he was seen on deck of the steamer Aidan, which brought him from the tropics. But the same old spirit was there. He snapped his jaws just as he had done when in the best of health, and he had the same old smile.

Standing at the starboard rail of the Aidan, the Progressive leader showed the effects of the illness which nearly cost him his life. His face, beneath a dark coat of tan painted by a tropical sun, was thin and drawn; his neck was lean and snowy, while his back tapered from his shoulders to a waist remarkably slender for the colonel. Before the ship reached Quarantine he experienced two chills, proving that the fever had not been eradicated from his system.

Contest Time Limit Is Extended to June 10; Coupon Sale Stops June 5

Scores of Booklover contestants have protested against the limited time allowed for the purchase of extra coupons and the submission of solutions. Many have claimed that the Advocate had no right to bring the contest to a close so quickly and that the limited time does not permit the careful study of the pictures. Others have pointed out the fact that they are very busy with household or business cares and that they could not get their coupons ready in the time allowed.

The Advocate has from the beginning of this big contest of wits endeavored to do exactly the right thing by every contestant and the flood of mail that has poured in upon the contest, editor, since Thursday morning makes the Advocate sure that a reasonable extension of time will be fair to all and of injury to none. Inability to promptly fill all orders for coupons today is another reason for extending the time.

The time limit for obtaining coupons was previously set for Monday, May 18, and announcement was made that solutions would be received from May 19 to May 30. In order to comply with the wishes of a great many contestants who have by letter or in person made the request, the Advocate announces an extension of time. Coupons may be obtained up to 6 o'clock on Friday evening of June 5. Orders received up to that date and orders bearing the postmark of June 5 will be accepted. Solutions may be submitted up to 6 p. m. Wednesday, June 10, 1914. Solutions postmarked June 10 will be accepted. The correct answers to the pictures will positively be published beginning June 11 at the rate of about ten each day until all 70 shall have been printed.

This extension of time will work no hardship upon any contestant and will give those who have only a limited time in which to study the pictures and fill in their coupons sufficient opportunity to do the work.

Remember, please, that coupons may be obtained up to 6 p. m. Friday, June 5, and that every solution must be submitted by June 10. Contestants are requested not to send any solutions to the Advocate before June 1.

PERSONAL FORTUNE AND NEW HIGHWAY ERA FRUITS OF A POOR YOUNG MAN'S BIG IDEA

Personal fortune for the inventor and a new paving era are the fruits of a lifetime devoted by Frank B. Dunn of Conneaut, O., to the perfection of a simple little process of shaping paving brick so that projections keep a uniform interstice for the grout filler and so engage it that the pavement becomes a perfect monolith.

Through Dunn's invention, finely ground shale or clay is mixed with water into a stiff mud, which is forced through a die forming a continuous column. The column in travel into the cutter plates is sliced into brick by common plane wire, guided by slots in the steel plates.

In 1910 two and a half million of these wire-cutting bricks were produced. The 1914 output will exceed 100,000,000. The entire output of plants now equipped for the new process exceeds a half billion and soon will be all of the new type.

Dunn's story is the typical struggle of a poor boy with a big idea. He has unlimited faith in the future of paved roads and says that the extent of the vehicle traffic of the future is not dreamed of today.

SURPRISES MANY IN NEWARK

The QUICK action of simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-I-ka, the remedy which became famous by curing appendicitis, is surprising Newark people. Many have found that this simple remedy drains so much foul matter from the system that A SINGLE DOSE relieves constipation; sour stomach and gas on the stomach almost IMMEDIATELY. Adler-I-ka is the most thorough bowel cleanser ever sold. R. F. Collins, druggist, 27 Hudson avenue.

Tax Plan Endorsed

The Saturday Evening Post, the nation's greatest weekly magazine, is the latest to give genuine approval to the plan of removing the fixing of tax values from local influences. As has been done in Ohio. The Post says equality in taxation can be brought about only in this way. The endorsement was given in an editorial in the magazine May 16. Although it deals with conditions in Minnesota under the elective system of choosing assessors and points out a remedy, it fits in so nicely with taxation reforms in this state, that this paper reproduces the editorial. Here it is:

The Career of a Grand Opera Singer

One of the great figures of the musical world, Madame Lillian Nordica, has just passed away. As the world sees her life, it was a scene of cheering audiences, dignified by the praise of the severest critics. For the place which she occupied a thousand young women are striving. The laborious effort, the sacrifices by which she reached success, are not realized.

There is something pathetic in the fruitless effort which a host of singers are making to attain a success of this kind. Every city of any size has a number of voices which in some respects can be compared with the great operatic stars. But for every one that makes a large success, a whole regiment is turned down. The same old names appear year after year at the big opera house. It seems cruel to encourage young people to enter a field where so few attain the ends they are working for.

SPRING SICKNESS

Spring sickness comes in some degree to every man, woman and child in our climate. It is that run-down condition of the system that results from impure, impoverished, devitalized blood. It is marked by loss of appetite and that tired feeling, and in many cases by some form of eruption. The best way to treat spring sickness is to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. Ask your druggist for this all-the-year-round medicine. It purifies, enriches and revitalizes the blood.

How You Can Have A Clear, Hairless Skin
(Boudoir Secrets.)
Here is an inexpensive and time-saving hair remover every woman should keep handy, for with it the skin can be kept entirely free from hair or fuzz. Get a small original package of powdered Delatone and when hairy growth appears make a paste with a little of the powder and some water. Apply, and after two or three minutes rub off. The hairs will have vanished. The skin should then be washed to free it from the remaining Delatone. This is quite harmless, but be certain you get Delatone.

THE CALL

THROW AWAY YOUR EYE-GLASSES!

A Free Prescription

You Can Have Filled and Use at Home.

Do you wear glasses? Are you a victim of eye-strain? Or other eye-weaknesses? If so, you will be glad to know that there is real hope for you. Many whose eyes were failing, say they have had their eyes restored through the principle of this wonderful free prescription. One man says, after trying it: "I was almost blind; could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without any glasses and my eyes do not water any more. At night they would pain dreadfully; now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me." A lady who used it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for fifteen days everything seems clear. I can even read fine print without glasses." It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reasonable time and multitudes more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be spared the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully relieved by following the simple rules. "The Eye-Doctor" will be sent to you free of charge. Go to T. J. Evans or to any active drug store and get a bottle of "Options." Fill the bottle with warm water; drop in one Option tablet and allow to dissolve. With this liquid, bathe the eyes two to four times daily. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start and inflammation will quickly disappear. If your eyes are bothering you, even a little, take steps to save them now, before it is too late. Many hopelessly blind persons have been saved if they had cared for their eyes in time. On Second Thought

Buck Kilby says the present-day fashions are one of the factors in preventing women from keeping anything secret.

The disreputable-looking relative sometimes refrains from attending the wedding, but he always comes to the funeral.

If you want a thing done, don't send a committee. Instead go yourself.

Possibly the most trying ordeal is the one to which the second husband is subjected in the community in which the deceased husband lived.

Preserving the honor of the family usually only is a matter of keeping the truth from the neighbors.

When a man is afraid to say it himself he asks a newspaper to do it for him.

When a man voluntarily retires from politics it generally is for the purpose of forestalling the voters of the community in which he lives.

When a joke is sentenced to vaudeville it is for life.

"THE NURSE AND THE COUNTERFEITER."

Kalem.

Betty Gordon..... Helen Holmes
Dr. Andrews..... William Branton
Haggard..... Leo D. Mahoney
Keefe..... Charles Wells

Betty Gordon, nurse, and Dr. Andrews, head internist at the hospital, found they did such excellent team work officially that they concluded to establish a permanent corporation, which is to say that they were in love and engaged to be married. Occasionally they found intervals in their business of splicing bones and feeding gruel to go out among the trees and bushes and discuss this happy prospect.

From one such session they were summoned one day to bind up a much broken up patient who arrived in the ambulance. He was in Betty's charge during his convalescence, which progressed so well that he soon was very near the point of discharge as completely cured.

Just before this happened, however, a newspaper fell into Dr. Andrews' hands describing a distinguished counterfeiter at large upon whose head was set a large sum. From the description Dr. Andrews was able to identify the patient in room 26 as identical with the gentleman desired. The price the state was willing to pay for him was $1,000, which looked pretty good to the doctor contemplating setting up housekeeping.

Dr. Andrews hurried up to room 26 and called Betty out to show her the counterfeiter. He had set off post haste to the hospital to warn him as soon as discovering the newspaper article, and on his way he overheard the plan of Betty and the doctor for capturing the criminal. He was granted permission to visit the patient, who sent Betty out of the room for some fresh water to relieve his severe cough. In her absence they fled, leaping out of the window and flashing away in Keefe's auto. When Betty returned she found a slip of paper Keefe had dropped with an address on one side.

She called Dr. Andrews, who gave the address to the police, and then the nurse and the doctor set out in immediate pursuit in the doctor's automobile. They arrived at a plain little house, entered it, pushed into an inner room where Dr. Andrews was instantly captured, taken out and trussed up against a door, and Betty was left to the mercy of one of the interrupted counterfeiters. His mercy took the form of unpleasant personal demonstrations of affection which she found difficult to dodge until her professional eyes lighted on a small bottle on the table. She thanked her fortunate star that this room was the counterfeiters' laboratory and agreed amiably to her host's suggestion that they have a drink.

In his glass she poured some of the contents

MISS MIRIAM COOPER

Miss Miriam Cooper, a youthful addition to the Mutual corps of pretty girls, makes her debut as leading lady in the Majestic release, "A Diamond in the Rough." She has been playing for some months in minor roles, but her work in this interesting photo drama ranks her as a capable leading woman for heavy dramatic work.

of the small bottle, which quickly reduced him to inertness. Then she took her revolver, opened the door softly, and had the drop on Dr. Andrews' guard, who took the change in fortunes none too amiably. Betty, however, in her effort to get Andrews released lost her advantage for a moment—a moment which was immediately seized upon by the counterfeiters as their special dispensation from fate. They had the two young people then in their power and were preparing to visit upon them all of their accumulated wrath when they were unavoidably detained by the arrival of the police. Overpowered in numbers the counterfeiters were led away to jail, while the nurse and the doctor received the $1,000 reward as immediate capital for their projected corporation.

"Little Breeches."

This is a pictureization for John G. Hay's poem, showing the adventures of the little Gabe, when he is lost by a runaway team in the snow, and found safe among the sheep. The pictures are of a very good quality, but in some places the fall short in their interpretation of the lines. For instance, it isn't snowing in one place where the quotation has especially described the snowfall, and again the sheep aren't huddled around the child when they are supposed to be keeping him warm; also, they are very dingy sheep to have their whiteness commented upon.

"A Dream of the Circus."

This is an odd and charming little picture of a little boy, who had when all his real toys turned themselves into a circus parade and moved down a toy street as gayly as ever any circus, complete from clown to calliope. The fun of the thing is the quaint stiff jointed movements of the mechanical toys, which gives a novel effect.

"A Diamond in the Rough."

In itself, the plot is simple, but with the good actors and the attractive settings it becomes very well dressed. Miss Miriam Cooper, who is here given one of her first opportunities to shine as a histrionic luminary of celluloidism, shows herself a very young person of decided promise in playing the role of the pretty young girl in the little western town so carried away with the charms of novel heroes that she quite disregards those of the flesh and blood young man who seeks her favor.

Being scorned by the girl, he makes a good friend of her small sister, delightfully represented by little Miss Edna May Wilson, and the two pull off a really thrilling rescue stunt. The girl's father is a well-to-do old gentleman, skeptical of banks, so in the face of her protests he keeps his bag of money in the house, hiding them in the bottom of an up-hoisted chair. When the girl is entirely under the spell of the gallant of the novel there come to town two sewing machine agents, garbed in sack suits, white collars and other impediments of civilization. To the girls' eyes, they stack up considerably higher than her roughly dressed cowboy wooer, and when they learn of her father's money hidden in the house, they find her unsuspecting charm the very last word in attraction.

One day when her father is away, they plan to call on the girl and secure the money at the same trip. After a liberal amount of inexperienced rouging, powdering, and eyelid penciling, the older girl goes to receive her caller, while the younger one, who has been a mocking spectator all the time from the vantage point under the bed, proceeds to try sister's beautification game herself. While she is gleefully dipping into the powder she hears terrifying sounds from the living room, where the sewing machine agent is trying to force the girl to tell him the money's hiding place.

Quickly the child slips out of the window, mounts a horse and rides for the cowboy friend, over a long stretch of road, fording a swift flowing river, but bringing her back in time to save the money, the girl, and her father, dispose of one rascal, and capture the other.

The Daily Work.

Though nations may combat, and war's weapons rattle, we shouldn't go batty, neglecting our chores; we'd better be busy doing the cattle than stand around cussing those Mexican bosses. Our ships will look after the national honor; it's wasted endeavor to argue and yawp, when we should be rustling, a-mow'ing the lawn or destroying the thistles which ruin the crop. Oh, some of us tell how we'd like to be sloshing around in the blood of those Mexican jays; and people who know that our wives take in washing are not much impressed by the racket we raise. Our pulwaris are safe, and the nation's cat-o'-hans (if any one knows what the dickens that is), is sicker than beeswax, so let us be touchin' the saw and the sawbuck, and get down to biz. Let's tend to our duties with business-like ardor, and put up our hay in the light of the sun; let's stock up the woodshed and also the larder, and talk about war when the day's work is done.

Madame Isebell Gives Exercises for Stout Women

LESSON XII—PART VI.

My diet which I outlined for you in the last installment of this lesson with the following exercises will reduce the average patient three pounds a week. I do not recommend more rapid reduction. Unless the patient is very stout and does not work hard, more rapid reduction is slow and steady, it is more apt to be permanent.

Madame Isebell's Reduction Exercises.

Arise in time to have a free half hour before dressing for breakfast. Begin with the breathing exercises outlined in Lesson X and follow by the general exercises given in the first part of this lesson. Then do these three special reduction exercises:

R-1—Hold the arms parallel with palms towards each other, keeping them in this position raise them slowly above the head, stretching the body as much as possible. At the same time rise on the balls of the feet, keeping steady poise. When the arms are straight above the head continue the movement backwards as far as possible, keeping the head between the arms. Return to erect position with arms straight up. Now bend body to the left, keeping the head, neck and head between them, now to the right. Repeat this exercise ten times.

R-2—Place the feet close together, head between them, now to the right. Relax. Repeat this exercise ten times.

R-3—Place the feet close together, head between them, now to the right. Relax. Repeat this exercise ten times.

R-4—Place the feet close together, head between them, now to the right. Relax. Repeat this exercise ten times.

R-5—Place the feet close together, head between them, now to the right. Relax. Repeat this exercise ten times.

Mrs. Elmer Camp was hostess to the None-Such club at her home in Leroy street, Wednesday afternoon. A dinner was served late in the day, after which music was enjoyed. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Earl Holman, Misses Lottie, Hattie and Nevada Holman, Maud Holler, Mary Spees, Irene Hey and Mr. Elmer Camp.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Thielefeld and children, Ernest and Henriette, left Wednesday night on the Pennsylvania lines for New York, from where they will sail Saturday morning on the S. S. Lapland of the Red Star line, for Antwerp. They will go to make their future home in Mrs. Thielefeld's native city in Germany.

Mrs. Thielefeld came to this country three years ago to visit her cousins, Mrs. Nicholas Lohrmann and Mrs. Louise Butler. Her husband is a baker and has been employed in Mansfield.

A farewell was tendered them by twenty-five friends in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Lohrmann, 255 West Main street, Sunday night.

The Vegetable Caterpillar.

New Zealand's vegetable caterpillar is not vegetable at all. It is a grub about the length of the finger, which has its habitat in friable mold at the roots of the rata vine. In many instances this grub, known to New Zealanders as the "Maoi" name, aweto, is infected by the spores of a fungus, Cordyceps (Sphaeria) robertii. While the mycelium of this fungus is invading the tissues of the aweto it sends up a spore bearing stalk to the height of from four to eight inches just between the head and the first ring of the body of the grub. By the time the spores are ready to discharge the animal dies, and the whole body is found filled with vegetable material. The same spot of ground is the theater of a second drama of vegetable ferocity. While the fungus is destroying the insect at its roots the rata vine grows upward by twining about some tree of less rapid growth and in the end strangles its support and maintains thereafter a tree existence of its own.

One Man Applauded.

Camille Saint-Saëns was present when Verdi's "Requiem of All Nations" was rendered for the first time at the opening ceremonies of the World's fair in London, and he gave this reason for the "failure" of the composition: "The hymn was arranged to introduce the national anthems of the various countries, and, not knowing that the 'Marseillaise' was at that time in bad repute, it was used as representative of France. The Emperor Napoleon when he heard the strains turned pale, and the knowing ones in the audience were so greatly embarrassed that no one in the great throng dared applaud. Yes, one man did applaud, and that was I. Napoleon arose in his box and directed his opera glass toward me, and I looked at him through my glass. After a few moments the emperor hurriedly departed."

Newton's Shock.

The immortal discoverer of the law of the attraction of gravity was at one time beside himself. In his fiftieth year Newton suffered the severe shock from which he never fully recovered. A dog upset a lighted candle, and precious manuscripts embodying the results of many years' experiments in optics were destroyed. In consequence of this Newton's mind lost its balance. Brewster denies this, but about its truthfulness there is not much room for doubt. It is certain that for a considerable time his letters were quite incoherent, and to be accounted for upon no other hypothesis than that of a disordered mentality. Newton slowly recovered and lived to be eighty-three years old.

The Parson's Soft Job.

"There is a prevalent idea among the criminal classes that the clergy have nothing whatever to do." The authority for this statement is the archdeacon of London, who has three large prisons in his archdeaconry. An old woman once said to a jail chaplain: "I wish you could find a job for my old man. He is not up to much and cannot do anything, but he wants a soft job like yours!"—London Globe.

Parisian Fashions Will Demand Taffeta

We are to have a taffeta season; not the stiff taffeta of our grandmother's day, however, but a pliable taffeta that lends itself beautifully to the ruffles, tunics and draperies of the present-day modes.

The one-piece costume and jacket suit so nearly resemble each other this season that it is often hard to distinguish them, due largely to the fact that many of the jackets with their kimono sleeves are made similar to bodices in front, and in back give the appearance of being part of the tunic skirt.

The costume in the sketch is one of the advance models, made of dark blue taffeta, with trimmings of black flowered moire. The skirt proper is extremely narrow, the opening in front being filled in with plaited chiffon. The waist line is high and the jacket is finished with a black moire girdle to correspond with the revers and Medici collar.

Salt Germs.

"Salt, of all things, we deem germ proof, but as a matter of fact, salt is one of the most germ ridden foods we eat."

The speaker, a physiologist, continued:

"You know gray salt, the 'gross salt' that gourmands eat with boiled beef? Well, that salt is made gray by the addition of mud, plain mud; hence it always contains from 6,000 to 75,000 bacterial colonies per gram. Refined salt, white salt, is almost as bad. It lies, you know, in the refinery under a blanket of clay, and its refining consists of a sea water bath, after which it is dried and heated to the point of crystallization. At this point, of course, to remove from it its 2,000 or 3,000 bacterial colonies per gram that it imbibed from its clay blanket. The pure food people should look to our salt. This white, clean stuff is alive with germs. Yet it would be easy to refine it so as to make it germ free."—Exchange.

Minuteness of Electrons.

Crookes, in his vacuum tubes around 1880, tore matter by means of very high potential electrical disruptive discharges into particles so inconceivably minute that he called them matter in the ultra gaseous, or fourth state.

In 1899 the modern master among minds, proved these particles to be themselves "electricity." Rutherford, Ramsay, Becquerel, Soddy, the Curis, Larmor and others confirmed the mighty discovery. Then came Robert Andrews Millikan, University of Chicago, in 1911, and astonished every scientific man in the world by actually isolating and weighing one of these exceedingly minute entities.

This was at once conceded to be the greatest work of man since Newton discovered how to use infinitesimals. Of these particles, if they could be forced to lie side by side in contact—impossible by man—a row one inch long would contain 32,700,000,000,000. They are known to be pure electricity. They are called electrons, and nothing exists but electrons.—Edgar Lucien Larkin in New York American.

The Bell Bird.

The most remarkable thing in connection with the bell bird is its powerful voice. It utters a clear metallic note that can be heard at a distance of three miles. Its noise is like that produced by a blacksmith striking his anvil. Sometimes it repeats its notes in quick succession, sometimes at fairly long intervals. There is no mistake about the voice of this bird; it is loud and piercing and would be heard above the din produced by every inmate of the zoo raising its voice at once. Except for a space of naked skin on the throat and around the eyes, which during the breeding season is of green color, this bird is pure white. The contrast between the sexes in the bell birds is extreme, for while the male is pure white, the female is brownish green. Darwin refers to the bell bird when he points out that "white is a very rare color in terrestrial species of moderate size and inoffensive habits."—Pall Mall Gazette.

Unexpected.

One of the dignitaries of the Church of Scotland was a minister of a remote parish before he leaped into fame, but was not considered a particularly eloquent preacher. At his suggestion extensive alterations were made in the church, which had the effect of sweeping away considerable seating accommodation. One day after the alterations had been effected he visited the church to see how it looked.

"What do you think of the improvements, John?" he asked the beadle.

"Improvements?" exclaimed John in disdain. "They're no improvements at all. Whaur are 'ee goin' to put the folk?"

"Oh," said the minister, "we have abundance of room, John, considering the size of the congregation."

"That's a very weel, the noo," retorted the beadle. "But what will we do when we get a popular minister?"—London Tit-Bits.

A Mistake.

"I didn't know you had malaria here!" said the visitor.

"We haven't," replied Farmer Corntassel.

"But I saw a man down the road with chills and fever."

"That wasn't malaria. What you saw was St. Simili shuddering at the thought of what his wife was going to say to him when he got home."—Washington Star.

Willing to Take a Tip.

"Look here," said the sophomore's father, "how do you expect to do any studying if you're going to be out tearing around every night until 11 to 12 o'clock?"

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Look young! Nobody can tell if you use Grandmother's simple recipe of Sage, Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur-Hair Remedy," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe for about 50 cents.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy. IF BACKACHE OR KIDNEYS BOTHER

Eat less meat and take a glass of Salts to flush out kidneys—Drink plenty water.

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys; they become overworked, get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush out the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Eat less meat; drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

Child, Cross? Feverish? Sick?

A cross, feverish, listless child, with coated tongue; pale, doesn't sleep; eats sometimes very little, then again ravenously; stomach sour; breath fetid; pains in stomach, with diarrhea; grinds teeth while asleep, and starts up with terror—all suggest a Worm Killer—something that expels worms, and all most every child has them. Kickapoo Worm Killer is needed. Get a box today. Start at once. You won't have to coax, as Kickapoo Worm Killer is a candy confection! Expels the worms, the cause of your child's trouble. Recommended by F. D. Hall.

This would be a pleasant world if the chronic kicker stubbed his toe oftener.

LITTLE DISCUSSIONS OF LOVE AND MARRIAGE

BY BARBARA BOYD

The Man Who Gives and the Woman Who Takes.

"I saw a play the other night," said the Engaged Girl, "in which the man sacrificed every thing he held dear, to secure for the woman he loved some jewels she had set her heart upon."

"That's an old story," observed Grandmother. "If you could get the inside history of a good many bank defalcations and absconding cashiers, you would, I think, find a woman wanting jewels of one kind or another."

"But isn't it dreadful," said the Engaged Girl, "that a woman will use a man's love for her in that way?"

"It certainly is," agreed Grandmother. "And I think the woman is the greater sinner. What the man does, he does after all from a great love. It may be a foolish love. It may be a warped judgment. But at any rate, it is not self that is spurring him to the crime. That is, not altogether self; to be sure, it is a satisfaction to him to gratify her. But the stronger impelling force is love for her. But the woman who inspires or demands what he does is purely selfish."

"Yet the man bears all the blame and the punishment while the woman goes scot free, usually with the jewels; and is often commiserated for being the wife or sweetheart of a criminal."

"Many a woman demands the same sacrifice of her husband, though it may not take the form of embezzling money to provide her jewels. The woman who makes her husband sacrifice all his worthy ambitions that she may live in luxury or climb the social ladder is, I think, in the same class as the woman who made him a man to steal for her. He isn't pilloried before the public, but he is before his own soul. Many a man plodding away at a desk or haggardly watching the stock ticker is sacrificing all he holds good for the sake of the woman insatiably demanding money. And he who gives even though he seems to be committing a crime to give, is finer than she who takes."

"But if she would enter into his ambitions," said the Engaged Girl, dreamily, "and help him to attain to all the fine and noble in him, how much happier they would both be, how she would grow as he grew, how much richer and fuller life would be. And how much more worth while such success than the mere possession of jewels or the achievement of social results."

"Yes," agreed Grandmother. "But some women can't glimpse that. They see only themselves decked out in jewels, or as a social leader. That is all in life that they want. And they greedily demand and take whatever will help them achieve this end. And their poor infatuated victim gives his all to please them. And so I say, though he be weak and his act not to be condoned, the woman's is the more unworthy of the two."

"And I think that of the two, I would rather be the man who would do such a thing than the woman who would ask it. But isn't it a pity women will so misuse their power?"

Barbara Boyd.

MAY FESTIVAL AT GRANVILLE BIG SUCCESS

(Special to the Advocate.)
Granville, May 21.—A great success has been enjoyed in the several years past, by the spring musical festival and on Wednesday evening it remained for Mr. Karl H. Eschman to revive the interest and bring to the pinnacle of worth the annual assembly of chorus and vocalists. Mr. Eschman is untiring in his efforts and his great dynamic force seemed to inspire those under his direction and all responded to the slightest interpretation of the director.

The May Festival was held in the Baptist church and a large audience assembled. The hour was 7:30 o'clock and Mendelssohn's oratorio "Saint Paul" was given. The oratorio in two parts was delightful if a trifle long, and all the soloists were in excellent voice. Miss Millicent Brennan, a former Granville student, now located in Canada, possessing a beautiful soprano voice, was warmly received by the audience in which were many of her former admirers. The contralto, Miss Zoe Fulton, of Newark, received a charming little ovation and her solo numbers were freely given in a full rich voice. Ellis E. Legler, baritone, also is a former Granville favorite and his voice always beautifully showed that he had merged long since from the amateur to the professional. The tenor numbers were delightfully given by Mr. Walter C. Barnes.

Full two hundred, well trained voices, responded to Mr. Eschman in the chorus and the whole of the oratorio was remarkably well given.

This evening the artists' recital will be given by the soloists of the festival.

TROOPS ARRIVING AT GALVESTON EN ROUTE TO VERA CRUZ

An animated scene of war-time activity when the pack trains of the 4,000 troops of the United States army comprising the Fifth Brigade, commanded by General "Fighting" Fred Funston arrived at Galveston, Texas, en route to Vera Cruz to relieve the blue jackets and marines now holding that port against the Mexicans.

"THE RIVALS" TO BE PRESENTED BY LOCAL TALENT

The days of paint, patches and powder will return in "The Rivals," the play given tomorrow night. With all the costumes of the picturesque days of one hundred years ago, Sir Lucius O'Trigger will start through the streets of Bath bidding the shaking Aere "let your courage be as keen and at the same time as polished as your sword." Mrs. Malaprop, the old dragon who herself instead of Lydia is as "headstrong as an allegory on the banks of Nile." The famous duel scene and the wonderfully clever ensemble work in the coerced love-scene, Sheridan was a master of stage craft, while unlike modern plays, the lines glisten and gleam with wit and humor, a literary as well as dramatic achievement.

THE PURE FOOD RULES ADOPTED BY THE STATE

Columbus, May 21.—Adulterated oranges constitute the latest food stuff to come under the ban of the state dairy and food division of the agricultural commission. Rulings prepared by the S. E. Strode, commissioner in charge of the food division and approved today by the commission hold that oranges whose skins have been colored by being placed in a warm moist place after being removed green from the trees are adulterated within the meaning of the Ohio law. Their sale is prohibited.

Food inspectors declared these oranges have been sold frequently in Ohio but they can be detected by their extreme acidity. Often they are hard and have little juice.

Persons buying such fruit and suspecting it of being "adulterated oranges" are requested to notify the dairy and food division of the agricultural commission.

Among other pure food rules adopted and announced by the commission today are the following:

If butchers or grocers sell ground meats containing corn meal, or other cereal, this kind of a sign must be displayed "Sausage with cereal added."

Hotels, restaurants and boarding houses must quit using milk from which part of the cream has been skimmed, unless they announce that "skimmed milk is served here."

Only the net weight of food material packed in boxes, cases or sacks, need be marked on the outside hereafter. Before this, the dairy and food division has required the stamping of the net weight, gross weight and the weight of the package, known as tare weight.

Saccharine, a coal tare product, 150 times sweeter than sugar, must not be used in foods or drinks. It is considered injurious.

Sale of "margarine" made by beating butter and milk together to make a greater bulk is prohibited.

Oysters containing less than 12 per cent. solids, will be considered "watered," and the dealer selling them will be prosecuted.

Sodium sulphate, used occasionally to make ground meat look fresh is harmful and must not be used.

The term "sweetoil" must be applied to olive oil only.

Whiskey containing less than 44 per cent. of alcohol will be considered adulterated.

All eating places using oleomargarine as a substitute for butter, or chirory and cereal for coffee must proclaim the fact posting a card.

Benjamin Ricketts, the defendant, is 79 years of age and the father of 12 children. Mrs. Hiles is 63 years of age and has been twice married. Ricketts gave notice of appeal.

White House Tragedy and Gayety.
Between 1841 and 1844 the White House saw a greater mingling of tragedy and gayety than it ever did in any equal interval before or since. William Henry Harrison, Tyler's immediate predecessor, died when only a month in office, and Tyler served out the remainder of the term. Mrs. Letitia Tyler died a few months after her youngest daughter, Elizabeth, was married to William Waller of Virginia. This was on Sept. 10, 1842. In February, 1844, a great gun burst while exhibiting it on a trip down the Potomac in the midst of a brilliant company, among whom were Tyler, many members of congress and of the cabinet, and other distinguished guests. About forty persons were killed or injured.

Among the killed were the father of Miss Gardiner, who soon afterward became Tyler's second wife. Although married while her husband was in the White House, the second Mrs. Tyler had her wedding at her home in New York, but she held her reception in the executive mansion. She became popular in Washington society and undoubtedly strengthened the social side of her husband's administration.—Charles M. Harvey in Leslie's.

You Will Make No Mistake if You Follow This Newark Citizen's Advice.

Never neglect your kidneys. If you have pain in the back, urinary disorders, dizziness and nervousness, it's time to act and no time to experiment. These are frequently symptoms of kidney trouble, and a remedy which is recommended for the kidneys should be taken in time.

Doan's Kidney Pills is a good remedy to use. No need to experiment. It has acted effectively in many cases in Newark. Follow the example of a Newark citizen.

Mrs. Elizabeth Starr, 89 Hancock street, Newark, Ohio, says: "For years I had been badly run down from kidney and bladder trouble. The complaint affected my nerves and made me weak. CONGRESS FACING SUMMER'S WORK

Caucus Shatters All Hope For Early Adjournment.

LONG DEBATE ON TRUSTS.

Overman, Chairman of Lobby Investigating Committee, Delays Report So as to Keep Down Activities of Lobbyists on Trust and Tolls Measures. Filibuster Delays Many Bills.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, May 21.—[Special.]—After the Democratic caucus there were numerous predictions that that action meant an early adjournment, but there are others who are not quite so optimistic, especially those on the senate side of the capital.

(Several senators said that if the president still insisted upon putting through the trust legislation congress would be in session until October. Some of them went so far as to say that there would be three months' discussion on the trust bills before they could pass the senate. Unless the program for having the bill reported and having no action at this session is taken it looks as though congress would be here for a long time.)

Delayed Lobby Report.

Chairman Overman of the senate lobby investigating committee is not rushing to make a report upon the hearings which have been held and which created considerable interest at the time.

"I am not hurrying this report," said the North Carolina senator. "I desire to keep it open for a little while. It keeps them away from here. Those fellows who would be lobbying on the tolls and other bills that are pending are kept away because if they put in an appearance we would have them before the committee." So it appears that the mere fact that this committee might meet at any time is a good antidote for lobbyists.

Watching the Record.

Congressman Barnhart in the house and Senator Smoot in the senate are the watchdogs of the Congressional Record, but they have things slipped over on them occasionally in spite of all their efforts. Barnhart found Senator Smoot asleep at the switch the other day when Senator La Follette shipped in 368 pages of printed stuff regarding interstate commerce. No one document ever occupied quite so much space.

Seeking a Way Out.

There is really considerable regret that the house clogged calendar Wednesday so that different measures could not be considered in which many members are interested. "If they could get two or three fellows out of the house the clerk could skip fifty or sixty pages of that code bill, and we would get through with it," was a remark of Champ Clark.

The speaker has been long enough in congress to know that there are times when everybody is in a rush and that a good reading clerk can dispose of bills mighty fast. The same is true in the senate. But it happens that somebody had a filibuster on, and the clerk has been compelled to read every word and was not allowed to skip a line.

Sloan's Little Joke.

The house had a bill up for two revenue cutters, and Congressman Sloan of Nebraska obtained a little time from Chairman Adamson of the interstate commerce committee and asked him why there was any necessity for more revenue cutters. "We have the greatest revenue cutter in this house, known to the world as the ways and means committee," said Sloan. "It has reduced the revenue $48,000,000 since last October."

"I object to the gentleman trifling with my young affections," replied Adamson, "for he gave me an intimation of that witicism, and I told him I would object to the gentleman's remark in the house this afternoon because it is not up to his standard, and I would not have yielded to him if I had thought he was going to inflict that upon us."

It Happened in the Senate.

Senator Williams of Mississippi and Senator Borah of Idaho were having a running debate on the canal tolls proposition, and Williams thus spoke of one suggestion made by Borah: "Of all the enfantillages that has been uttered in this debate that easily stands as the chief. It is not even original with the senator from Idaho."

"I would not claim originality in a chamber where the senator from Mississippi sits," retorted Borah.

"Oh, psbaw!" said Williams.

Viewing the Wreckage.
Ever since that Democratic caucus members of the house have been viewing the wreckage, as it were, and pointing out what bills have been lost by reason of the presidential program. Not only do they talk about the presidential primaries, the prohibition amendment, the suffrage amendment, the Philippines independence bill, the warman's bill, but quite a number of others that are not likely to receive consideration under the plans that have been agreed upon. Of course the house would have time, but the members will probably not stay here after they get through the trust bills.

AUTO TELEPHONE FOR ZANESVILLE

NEWARK MAN TO BE TRIED FOR FORGERY IN U. S. COURT.

Cases Against Local Chinamen Continued—Zanesville Clean Up Day a Big Success.

Zanesville, O., May 21.—Following Newark's example, Zanesville is to have a new automatic telephone exchange if the plans materialize. The complete rehabilitation of the plant of the Zanesville Telephone and Telegraph company at an expenditure of approximately $100,000 is provided for in the improvement plans of the Ohio State Telephone company, the newly organized Ohio syndicate which has arranged to take over the United States company's long distance lines and 14 independent Ohio companies. The charge of forgery against Pierre Jascio of Newark will be heard before U. S. Commissioner F. F. Frazier today.

The cases against the three Newark Chinamen, charged with not having certificates of residence, have been postponed from May 25 to June 29 in U. S. Commissioner F. F. Frazier's court.

Zanesville is in the midst of a campaign to raise $3,000 for the T. W. C. A. The committee are meeting with success and expect to finish the work within a few days.

William Begley, Lee Jones and William Harmon are under arrest here on the charge of burglarizing the Deacon cottage at Dillon Falls. The boys came from Newark. They say that their home is in Greensburg, Pa. and that they went to Newark to work in a glass factory. They say that they entered the cottage to get something to eat and didn't intend to rob the place of anything else.

Zanesville has just finished its "clean-up" day, hauling, nearly 1,200 loads of rubbish were carted away.

ABSORBS SKIN, CHASES WRINKLES—YOUNG AGAIN

"The shock at beholding myself in the glass after nine long weeks abed, nearly caused a relapse," writes Emily Colson in Home Queen. "The faded face, with its lines of illness and worry, seemed twenty years older. Now, I thought, I could not attend my chum's wedding eleven days off, to which I had looked hopefully forward. 'She herself came to my rescue. She procured an ounce of ordinary mercurized wax at the drugstore, which she made me spread on like cold cream, washing it off next morning. Applied nightly, this apparently absorbed the withered skin, so gently I experienced no discomfort. By the wedding morn the pallid complexion had entirely given way to one of youthful color and loveliness. This due to a wash lotion made by dissolving an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half pint witch-hazel. The daily face bath had dispersed every line."

Gave Him a Christian Name.

Even the polyglot Swiss interpreter at the general postoffice admits that there are languages which would stump him. How would he have solved the problem once presented at the Hampstead Green postoffice and recorded in Baines' "On the Track of the Mail Coach?" Two ladies wanted to send a money order to a foreign tradesman in Oxford street. "What Christian name?" inquired the clerk. "He is a Turk and has none." "We must have a Christian name," the clerk insisted. "But you can't. His bill merely says 'Kotzemollen.'" "Oh, very well," decided the clerk. "That will do. Cut his name in two and make the order payable to 'Kotze Mollen.'" Solomon could not have done better.—London Chronicle.

FORMER

was a great admirer of President Roosevelt and I thought a matter of that kind ought to be laid before the president of the United States. I saw him and he was anxious, apparently, that Morse should be checked in his acquisition of control of steamer lines. He urged me not to sell.

"I told Mr. Roosevelt that as it was expected the bill being prepared by Herbert Knox Smith, commissioner of corporations, would contain a clause preventing railroads from owning steamships, it would be to our advantage to accept the Morse offer. I told him I felt it was doubtful that we ought to turn down the proposition when, by it we could turn our property into cash.

"Herbert Knox Smith and Commissioners Prouty and Mr. Knapp were present, having been called in by Mr. Roosevelt. Mr. Roosevelt substantially told me that if we did not sell to Morse he would use his influence to prevent our having trouble over our steamships.

"When was the bill put in by Attorney General Bonaparte?"

"I think in 1907."

"Why was the provision preventing the railroads from owning steamers left out?"

"I imagine it was because Mr. Roosevelt kept faith with us."

MACK'S SHOWS ALL DOING A BIG BUSINESS

Mack's United Shows, exhibiting here this week under auspices of the Order of Reindeer, are having big success. The attractions were witnessed by immense crowds Wednesday night, and the management declares that receipts show an increase every night.

Big business was anticipated on the carnival grounds for Thursday afternoon and night, when proprietors and clerks of most of the stores are expected to pay a visit to the show grounds.

The motordrome with Manee and Donnelly, daring riders has furnished thrills for thousands the first half of the week. The riders make fully sixty miles an hour while doing some of their most perilous feats.

The big plantation show arrived Thursday and probably will be running by night.

The Deep Sea show continues to attract good audiences, it being one of the best attractions seen here in years.

Rear Admiral Cameron McR. Winslow
Commanding Special Service Squadron

Rear Admiral Winslow, one of the combinations of good fellow and brilliant naval officer, has been assigned to command the special service squadron in Mexican waters, a mosquito fleet so to speak to cavort about some of the smaller ports where the big ships of the navy cannot enter. Winslow is a son-in-law of Henry O. Havemeyer, the sugar king, a fine type of citizen and has a record for brilliant service in the Spanish war. He commanded a torpedo boat that did valiant service in the blockading operations off Cuba. He has been lately at Newport taking a special course of technical training and his ambition is to be commander-in-chief of the Atlantic fleet. Winslow has been in command of part of the fleet at Vera Cruz. He was the principal objector to the recent order changing the "port" and "starboard" to "right" and "left." He contended that the latter words, carried against the wind, sounded too much alike but the order stands.

Mistake to Fashion City Government Upon Governments of State and Union

By GEORGE MANENY, President New York Board of Aldermen

AMERICAN city government as we know it historically does not offer a flattering record. The basic difficulty, as I conceive it, is that we made the mistake of fashioning the forms of our city government upon the governments of state and Union.

HAVING MADE A MINIATURE OF THIS SORT, SUGGESTING AT EVERY POINT THE ENTRANCE OF PARTISAN POLITICS, WE HAVE RUN OUR CITIES UPON NATIONAL POLITICAL LINES. WHENEVER ANYTHING HAS GONE WRONG THE CRY HAS BEEN, "CHANGE THE GOVERNMENT!" AND THE PROCESS OF UPSETTING THINGS AT THE POLLS, WITH THE CONSEQUENT "TURNING OUT OF THE RASCALS," HAS BEEN ACCEPTED AS THE NORMAL REMEDY FOR PASSING ILLS. THE RESULT HAS BEEN THAT WE HAVE NOT ONLY HAD A SYSTEM OF GOVERNMENT UTTERLY UNSUITED TO ITS PURPOSE, BUT A CHAOS OF CHECKS AND BALANCES THAT HAS REDUCED BOTH OPPORTUNITY FOR REAL SERVICE AND RESPONSIBILITY FOR TRUST.

DECISION WILL AFFECT SUMMER RESORT PARKS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Columbus, May 21.—Whether summer resort or amusement park companies shall be taxed as going concerns, and assessed on their earning ability, or only on the actual value of their physical personal property now is before the Supreme court for determination in the case of the Cedar Point resort company's suit against Erie county officials and the state-tax commission. Argument in the case was presented to the Supreme court today by Clarence D.

Laylin of the attorney general's department and counsel for the resort company.
The company maintains its personal property is worth only $60,000. The tax commission assessed its personal property at $201,000 on the assumption that the company's earning power justifies taxation on that amount. The principle laid down by the Supreme court will affect all similar companies in the state.

Misses Camille, Windie, Mildred Robe and Bernice Wintermute returned home on Wednesday evening from Washington, D. C., where they have been attending the National Domestic Arts and Science school.

EXERCISES TO BE CARRIED OUT MEMORIAL DAY

There are seven hundred soldier graves in and about Newark to be decorated this spring, and so many new ones, these men were all defenders of our great nation in its hour of need. Without their services there would not have been a United States of America. Let us reverently "Cover them over with beautiful flowers." Should not every Newark home, school, church and patriotic citizen feel it a sacred duty—privilege to be represented in the beautiful ceremony by a few flowers? Send them to Memorial Hall early Friday morning, May 29, and they will be properly arranged in flagged bouquets by Lemert Relief Corps and The Daughters of Veterans.

The general Memorial committee meets each Thursday evening and is making satisfactory progress.

Each year the Grand Army posts all over the country attend church on the Sabbath preceding Memorial day, May 30, and they always invite their associate patriotic orders to worship with them at that time. The Lemert Relief Corps, the Sons and Daughters of Veterans, The Spanish-American War Veterans, The Old Guard, and Company G National Guard are invited to be present with Lemert Post next Sabbath at the East Main Street United Brethren church, morning service. Rev. A. B. Cox will deliver the Memorial sermon.

In the afternoon Lemert Post and the Old Guard will be present at the raising of the Stars and Stripes over the East Newark Catholic school by the Knights of Columbus.

The American Army has always been ready to defend freedom of worship, freedom to educate and to protect our missionaries and schools in foreign lands, even to far away China. And it is peculiarly fitting that the soldier bodies be present when our glorious Star Spangled Banner is to be raised above an institution of learning.

In 1868 General Logan, first national commander of the Grand Army issued the first Memorial Day order. It only mentioned the dead soldiers of the Civil war, but soon the custom included the soldiers of the Revolutionary and Mexican wars. And later, the Spanish-American war and the Philippine insurrection. And now it is beginning to include the dead of all wars, including the Indian wars. That is as it should be. American soldiers and sailors have been buried in China, Japan, Korea, the Philippines, Central America, Samoa, Mexico, Cuba, Porto Rico, the Pacific and Atlantic oceans, the Northern and Southern Seas, and many rivers and islands. All these will be remembered at the Newark cemeteries this Memorial day.

This year there will be in the United States over two million soldier graves to decorate.

IN COMMUNICATION WITH MEDIATION NEGOTIATIONS

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, May 21.—President Wilson and Secretary of State Bryan were in direct communication early today with Mexican mediation negotiations at Niagara Falls, Ont.

As soon as the president reached the executive office after breakfast, Secretary Bryan hastened over from the state department. The special telegraph wire connecting the White House with headquarters of the American peace commissioners was working and several messages are said to have been exchanged between the President and the Commissioners Lamar and Lehmann.

"Things at the mediation conference are progressing smoothly," Mr. Bryan declared as he left the executive office in great haste. The secretary was smiling as he rushed by the waiting newspaper men and across the street to his office.

Reports of the American delegates—Justice Lamar and former Solicitor General Lehmann, were received at the White House over a private telephone wire direct from the mission's headquarters on the American side of the border.

Villa's determination to delay pressing his campaign against Saltillo until a forty mile stretch or railway had been repaired, and the absence of disturbing reports from Vera Cruz and Mexico City gave administration leaders the opportunity to address practically all their attention toward Niagara Falls. Huerta's denial that his delegates were authorized to concede his elimination if that appeared to be a precedent necessary proclamation by Huerta was not to be expected, despite assurances from various sources that ultimately he would not stand out against a proposal for his retirement.

Efforts to Subordinate Our Courts to Hasty Vote of Electorate Radical and Dangerous

By Former President WILLIAM H. TAFT

WE ARE AT A CRISIS WITH RESPECT TO THE FORM OF OUR POPULAR GOVERNMENT. WE FIND A FORMIDABLE MOVEMENT THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY TOWARD A DESTRUCTION OF ITS REPRESENTATIVE CHARACTER AND THE REVERSION TO AN OLD TYPE THAT IN THE HISTORY OF THE WORLD HAS PROVED A FAILURE, CALLED PURE DEMOCRACY. BUT MORE RADICAL AND DANGEROUS THAN THIS IS THE EFFORT BEING MADE TO SUBORDINATE OUR COURTS IN THEIR ADMINISTRATION OF JUSTICE TO RULES OF DECISION AND STANDARDS OF EQUITY AND JUSTICE THAT ARE TO BE DETERMINED ARBITRARILY BY THE HASTY VOTE OF AN ELECTORATE.

There is a proposal to BRING THE COURTS UNDER THE DOMINATION OF A POLITICAL SOVEREIGN. The courts were subjected to similar dominations in the times of the Stuarts and Tudors, and that was one of the causes leading to the rebellion of 1630 and the revolution of 1688.
